

Shen Tianhao

Visual Designer & Video editor & CG animator

ABOUT ME

I am a Chinese who moved to Australia as an international student from 2012. During the studying in UNSW Foundation's Design degree, which digs my interest in creative works, I started using software to edit video and add effects. After finishing my degree in Foundation I entered UNSW to continue my learning in the area of Media Arts. At that period I trained my skills in motion graphic design, 3d animation, and sound compositing, which was not a main subject though.

You are welcome to check my personal showreel at: https://youtu.be/_gSM_V9AE2A

OBJECTIVE

To obtain a position or internship in the area of video, graphic design or CGI animation. Using my and training my skills in the industry environment, practicing while working and learning. Getting involved in a team with creative developers and making cool stuff, and most important, be friends with everyone I work with.

To whom it may concern:

Re: Tianhao Shen's employment

UNSW Law Continuing Legal Education (CLE) has employed Shen Tianhao as a video producer over a period of 2 months from February 2018 to March 2018.

During his tenure with CLE, Shen was responsible for recording and editing videos of CLE seminars. Shen did an excellent job in shooting and post-production. He was proficient in using video and audio equipment as well as post production software to produce high quality videos.

I was pleased with the videos Shen produced and would recommend him for any job of a similar nature.

Sincerely,

Feon Chua

Certificate of internship

To whom it may concern,

This is to certify Tianhao Shen, from UNSW Art & Design, majored in Bachelor of Media Arts, started his three months internship at our company, from 11th January to 19th April.

During the individual's internship, under the guidance of our company's staffs, he got a preliminary understanding of conducting investigation into Media industry, and was familiar with video editing, as well as the details and standards involved in the graphic design process. In addition, he put all his passion and effort into his work. The individual tried to find out every problem he encountered and never hesitated to ask senior co-workers for help. He got along very well with others, which in turn proved his team-spirit and excellent skills of communication. Also, he was willing to take suggestions from others, and he could work overtime to ensure his work is fulfilled before due. His diligence, attitude and cooperation left all his co-workers and our company a very good impression.

Therefore we would like to recommend him for any further jobs in the video production and graphic design area.
